Dad, you’re someone to look up to no matter how tall I’ve grown.

Father’s Day is just round the corner and the PFA / Community Relations Committee had requested for posters to be made to promote the occasion. When this was put forth to the Year 6s and some younger students, they were more than eager to start straight away as well as give up some of their lunch times to do so. To all the dads in the school community, do come by the school and read the messages the children have written for you, on their posters.
